Ex-Convict Surrenders at Roadblock

Seized Woman, Youngsters Found Safe After 20 Hours

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A 29-year-old mother and her three children, pawns in an ex-convict's mad scheme against a former cellmate, were rescued by state police after being held captive for 20 hours.

Richard A. Payne, 23, surrendered late Thursday afternoon at a roadblock near Logan, 70 miles south of here, after firing two shots at trailing police. He had planned to use Mrs. John Baldwin and her children as a wedge to force the release of Burton Junior Post from the state penitentiary.

Had Vowed Vengeance
Payne had vowed vengeance—and death—on Post and threatened torture and death to his hostages if his demands were not met. The men were cellmates for 17 months of Payne's seven years in prison.

Talking freely and calmly with reporters, Payne said flatly: "If they send me back to the pen, I'm going to kill Post. They can't keep me from him in there. I just hope he's ready for me."

Payne did not go into detail as to the cause of his pent-up passion against Post. Thursday Post told a guard at the penitentiary he had no idea what Payne had against him.

Payne was released from prison eight days ago. Today, the sallow, heavy-lidded young man faces kidnapping charges. He was held at Kanawha County Jail.

In jail, Payne stuck to his story of why he kidnapped the 29-year-old mother and her children from their home in nearby South Charleston Wednesday night.

He said he wanted them as hostages to force the release of his one-time cellmate, Burton Junior Post, 31, from the penitentiary so that he could kill Post.

'Hate at First Sight'
Payne said he had planned the kidnapping for about two weeks but didn't select the Baldwins as his victims until he went to their home—three doors away from his house—and gained admittance on the pretext of wanting to use the telephone.

"I regret only that I was caught before I got Post," Payne said. "I was going to get his head and sort of preserve it. He's an enemy of my existence, and I hate him."

He described his feeling toward Post as "hatred at first sight."

Payne gave that motive for the kidnapping in a weird note addressed to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia. The note threatened torture and death to the children if Payne's demand for Post's release was not met.

Payne left the note in the Baldwin home when he drove off in the family car with Mrs. Baldwin and Susan, 5; Danny, 7; and Kenneth, 10. The husband and father, John H. Baldwin, 30, was left behind, tied and gagged.

Despite the threats in his macabre note, Payne did not harm his captives. "I couldn't have killed them after I got to know them," he said later.

"It was the most horrible experience I ever had," Mrs. Baldwin said. "I guess it could have been worse though. After all, he was nice to all of us and never tried to hurt us."

Payne's capture was the result of a tip from a source in the Charleston area. State police officers were alerted to the situation and quickly located the car.

A low of 45 is anticipated tonight, with Saturday's high expected to be 55. A sprightly wind is expected to accompany Saturday's precipitation in the county.

Ike's Budget Gets Beating In Congress

Area Redevelopment, Housing Bills Further Upset Fiscal Planning

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was experiencing a series of budgetary ups and downs on Capitol Hill today, with more bumps in the immediate offing.

In separate actions, the Senate and the House Thursday further upset the President's program for a balanced budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Big Airport Bill Passes

The House, by roll-call vote of 262-134, passed a 297-million-dollar four-year airport aid program which exceeded the President's recommendations by 97 millions.

Concurrently, the Senate voted to charge against the new budget $1,375,000,000 of new United States subscriptions to the International Monetary Fund. The President had counted on charging this item against this year's budget, already heavily unbalanced, instead of against the 1960 ledger.

By counting on higher gasoline taxes, postal rates and other tax gains which Congress appears to be shunning, Eisenhower had submitted a 1960 budget precariously balanced at about 7 billion dollars. He has repeatedly urged Congress to keep spending down to that figure.

Senate Debates Boost

But the Senate, which also has passed a housing bill far exceeding Eisenhower's estimates, is debating a 389½-million-dollar bill for area redevelopment, compared with a 53-million-dollar program Eisenhower asked.

The airport bill goes to a Senate-House conference committee for adjustment of differences between measures passed by the two chambers.

The Senate previously had approved a 465 million dollar airport program. Somewhere between those two figures a compromise will be reached, but it will be nowhere near the President's 200-million figure.

Republicans, with a smattering of Democratic aid, tried to hold the House version down to Eisenhower's recommendation. They lost out by a 214-194 count. They complained loudly against what they called "budget-busting."

Mr. Ritchey said the hearing will be held at 10 a.m. in compliance with law which requires public hearings before vacation or relocation plans can be placed into effect.

"We want to hear the pros and cons from individuals and organizations," he said. He added that the county commissioners would be asked to attend the hearing which will be conducted by E. L. Sholey, newly appointed deputy director of Division 6.

The section of Rt. 30-S which would be affected is situated in the southeastern corner of Tully Township.

President Reviews Berlin Strategy With Macmillan

Ike, British Chief Talk at Camp David

Conferences on Allied Strategy Are Held in Mountain Hideaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan began their important talks on Berlin and German problems during a visit today with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The two leaders and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd paid a call on the ailing Dulles en route to Camp David in the Maryland mountains where the talks will start in earnest later in the day.

More Than Courtesy

The White House said the visit with Dulles was more than a courtesy call. Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty said he assumed the half hour or so stop at Walter Reed involved "some preliminary discussions" of the desire for a firm Allied stand in the Berlin crisis.

Will Confer Through Sunday
At the rustic retreat in the Catoctin Mountains, about 65 miles from Washington, Eisenhower and Macmillan will plunge into detailed discussions which will keep them occupied through Sunday. Final talks probably will be held at the White House on Monday.

Working with each man were four advisers, including Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

During the conferences, they will seek to reconcile conflicting views and develop a unified allied viewpoint for negotiating with the U.S.S.R.

Macmillan, arriving from Ottawa, called for the development of "common policies that combine firmness and reasonableness."

Among the chief Allied leaders—Macmillan, Eisenhower, German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle—there was no evidence of any disagreement on the need for firmness in facing up to the Soviet challenger over Berlin.

The governments of all four have proclaimed their intention to preserve their rights and their access to West Berlin under the threat of Communist blockade and the danger of war.

The split among the Allies appears to be caused rather by the question of what constitutes "reasonableness" in the preparation of proposals which they may present to the Soviet Union in a foreign ministers meeting in May.

One of the points at issue is a possibility of following up the foreign ministers session with a summit conference.

Hearing Slated On Relocation Of Route 30-S

Highway Dept. Plans Project on Two-Mile Strip Near Caledonia

The state highway department announced today it will hold a public hearing in Common Pleas Court here April 6 on proposed vacation and relocation of a section of Rt. 30-S about three miles east of Caledonia.

Ailo B. Ritchey, location and design engineer in the department's Division 6 office in Delaware, said plans call for moving the highway about 600 feet to the south and constructing an overpass to carry it over the New York Central Railroad tracks.

The relocation would affect about two miles of the highway beginning at the Morrow-Marion County line, Mr. Ritchey said. He said the project would cost about one million dollars.

Rt. 30-S currently passes under the railroad. Mr. Ritchey said if the proposed relocation is accomplished, two hazardous bridges over Flat Run in Tully Township can be bypassed. He said the railroad underpass currently is too narrow and has been hit and damaged by tractor-trailer combinations.

Mr. Ritchey said the hearing will be held at 10 a.m. in compliance with law which requires public hearings before vacation or relocation plans can be placed into effect.

"We want to hear the pros and cons from individuals and organizations," he said. He added that the county commissioners would be asked to attend the hearing which will be conducted by E. L. Sholey, newly appointed deputy director of Division 6.

Stout Gives Opinion

County Can Trim Funds for Auditor

Prosecutor Robert O. Stout told county commissioners Thursday afternoon that he believes they can recall a portion of County Auditor Maurice C. Clements' 1959 appropriation.

He rendered an informal opinion which was sought by the commissioners in an effort to settle the courthouse pay raise dispute touched off last week when it was learned the auditor had granted increases to 11 members of his staff.

THE PROSECUTOR said today, however, that he is seeking an attorney general's opinion to establish final authority on the question.

Mr. Stout said he based his informal ruling on a section of the Ohio Revised Code, a 1927 attorney general's opinion and various other authorities.

Commissioner chairman Clarence Keil said this morning that any action by the board will be withheld until the attorney general's opinion is received.

THE PROSECUTOR told the commissioners he could find no opinion or ruling that was absolutely specific on the question of recalling appropriated funds.

"In my opinion," he said, "the commissioners have authority to amend their appropriations resolution provided that no appropriation is reduced below an amount sufficient to cover all unliquidated and outstanding contracts or obligations certified from or against the appropriation."

He added that another source he uncovered ruled that payrolls are not considered outstanding contracts or obligations.

THE 1927 attorney general's opinion, which Mr. Stout said apparently has not been revised over the years, ruled that appropriations for office assistants, once passed by the commissioners, "may be amended by either increasing or decreasing the amount of the appropriation."

U.S. Treasury Tackles Rising Debt Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury is making a bold effort to ease its mounting debt problems by trying to borrow more money for a longer period of time.

The department announced late Thursday it will offer lenders a 10-year bond as part of a 4-billion-dollar cash borrowing next week.

The bond will pay 4 per cent interest and the Treasury hopes to sell 500 million dollars worth.

In addition, officials disclosed they will try to borrow 1½ billion dollars through the sale of 4 per cent notes which will mature in 4 years, 1½ months.

These moves surprised many money market observers. There had been much advance guessing that none of the money the Treasury needs—mostly to replace maturing loans—would be borrowed for more than three years.

Half of the big cash financing will involve loans running more than four years.

The remaining two billions will be borrowed through an auction of 8½ month bills—the first to be issued as part of a new program designed to ease the market impact of the government's massive borrowing operations.

Delay Clampdowns

House Shelves Request For Income Tax Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—Urgent fiscal purposes they consider the Treasury's recommendations dead for this session—possibly for good. They say the Treasury proposals are indefinite and would hopelessly upset long-standing practices. Involvement in endless litigation, go too far, or ignore the larger problem of how big a tax break the various segments of the mining and drilling industry should enjoy.

Depletion allowances granted mineral producers and the oil and gas industry have been a political hot potato for years.

The law now allows producers to deduct from taxes a percentage of their income as compensation for the depletion of their mines and wells.

The percentage depletion allowances range from 27½ per cent of gross income in the case of oil and gas, down to 5 per cent on a wide variety of minerals like clay, stone and slag.

But members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee say privately that for all practical purposes they consider the Treasury's recommendations dead for this session—possibly for good. They say the Treasury proposals are indefinite and would hopelessly upset long-standing practices. Involvement in endless litigation, go too far, or ignore the larger problem of how big a tax break the various segments of the mining and drilling industry should enjoy.

Suggests Steering Group

Harmon Urges All-Out Attack on City Problems

The formation of a master steering committee is the proper place to begin an all-out attack on the many serious civic problems that confront Marion.

This proposal was made by Charles D. Harmon, president of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, in a hard-hitting talk before the Marion Kiwanis Club Thursday noon at Hotel Harding.

"The committee should be composed of people who are incensed by present conditions and are interested enough to want to put Marion back on the map," he said.

"Such a general committee could be subdivided into planning sections for each problem," he said. After each subcommittee had made its study and offered specific recommendations, the material should be passed on to discussion groups which would bring out all the facts for taxpayers and voters, he said.

Finally, the projects should be promoted by political action teams, he declared.

In his report on the city's needs, Mr. Harmon listed 10 major problems or solutions. They were:

1. Annexation. This project should be backed by a well-thought-out plan and should not be attempted by a haphazard grab, he said. City Council passed the Marion Township proposal unanimously without making any scientific study of its effect on taxes, fire rates, facilities and services for both the suburban residents and the city. The impact of shifting school populations on school districts should be ascertained. The annexation proposal will be defeated next fall unless a thorough study is made and brought to public attention, he predicted.

2. Building code. The lack of a code can have serious, even tragic, consequences for our community when measured in the light of public safety, health and welfare.

3. City charter. With a possible city manager plan. "Most of the former opponents of a city charter now realize their error in bringing about its defeat in 1954," he said. Municipal government is really big business, since in Marion it operates a $30,000,000 corporation. The last six mayors, each from a different walk of life, were quite capable in their own fields but none had a minute's experience as the top city administrator before taking office. Marion badly needs a highly-trained administrator.

4. City and county zoning. Some progress is being made in this area, particularly in the county. There is a master plan in the county, none in the city. The problem still is approached in hodge-podge fashion in the city.

5. Grade crossing elimination. One of Marion's greatest needs for many years, this particular phase of the traffic project is bogged down again even though the one-way street program may become a reality. "The grade crossing proposal was effectively blocked in 1955 by 15 to 20 property owners who would be adversely affected, thereby depriving 35,000 residents of a badly-needed community improvement," Mr. Harmon said.

6. Public health. This whole problem is tied in with storm and sanitary sewers and a building code, he said. Some progress has been achieved through the creation of Sewer District No. 1. Sanitation and health problems still are acute in some sections on the perimeter of Marion due to the lack of modern plumbing and sewerage facilities, he said.

7. Parks and recreation. Work on the municipal pool has been a step in the right direction, but "I deplore the policies with which this project has been plagued," he said. A penurious park budget and defeats of recreation levies have badly handicapped parks and recreation, he said.

8. Sewers. Until the construction and repair programs of the last

Rites Set for 7 Of Auto-Train Crash Victims

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Funeral services will be held tomorrow for seven victims of the worst auto-train collision in Ohio's history.

Eight Girl Scouts and two mothers were killed Wednesday when a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train rammed their station wagon at a crossing 3½ miles west of here. The crossing was unprotected by flasher lights.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the driver, Mrs. Lucille White, 44, was at fault for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. White and her daughter, Sharon, 12, are incomplete.

Saturday's services will be combined for each of the following pairs of victims: Mrs. Jeannette Randall, 39, and her daughter, Paulmella, 11; Patricia Lapinski, 12, and Connie Laprise, 11; Anna Wilvert, 11, and Linda Ward, 12. Sunday services are planned for the other victim, Anne North, 11. All the victims lived in Beaver-Creek Twp., a rural, commuter-type suburb between Xenia and Dayton.

The Pennsylvania Railroad said its investigation confirmed the engineer's estimate of the train's 50 m.p.h. speed when the crash occurred. The railroad said 50 m.p.h. is the legal limit for that area.

The Ohio Department of Highway Safety reported the accident exacted the highest death toll in any collision between an auto and train in the state's history.

Records show that Ohio's worst accident—in terms of deaths and involving a train and a vehicle—occurred Jan. 22, 1929, near Bellevue, when 21 bus passengers were killed.

On Jan. 5, 1948, near Archbold, 10 died when a train collided with a tractor pulling a bobsled.

Man Fed Up With Rock 'n' Roll Buys 15 Minutes' Silence

RIPLEY, Tenn. (AP)—A business man who doesn't like rock 'n' roll music bought 15 minutes of radio time Thursday and devoted almost all of it to silence.

James W. Porter began his quarter-hour on Station WTRB by shattering several records and then proposing a "National Can the Racket League." Announced Porter:

"Friends, are you tense, nervous, jittery? Chances are you are over-tuned. You may have tried other stations without success, but now we offer you an amazing new discovery—instant silence."

Thirteen minutes of silence followed except for two breaks to reassure listeners their radios didn't need repair.

John Stewart, WTRB manager, said telephone callers were 100 per cent against the silence.

Pulitzer Prize winning playwright Elmer Rice was a practicing lawyer before he became an author of many stage and screen hits.

Experiments Using Hypnotic Drugs Lead to Student's Death

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — A toxicologist's report today may determine whether a University of Redlands biochemistry student died from the effects of a hypnotic drug last Tuesday.

Michael Hawks, 18, died shortly after he was found in a coma amid test tubes and vials in his dormitory room. Chemicals discovered in the room were identified tentatively as mushroom crystals, mescaline and lysergic acid, all of which produce hallucinations.

Young Hawks was described by relatives as "very curious about the effect of mushrooms on people, and interested in dreaming in color." Although he was a freshman, he was so advanced in chemistry he was enrolled in third year classes.

Deputy Coroner Edward Doyle has confiscated a tape recording on which Hawks appeared to describe eerie dreams. Chief of Police Stanley Bowen said it has been established that the young man conducted experiments with drugs on at least five university students.

Bowen said investigators found a notebook with entries by Hawks which, coupled with conversation on the tape recording, indicated one of his subjects had experienced hallucinations for a period of more than six hours.

Police said other tape recordings contained a philosophical dissertation on colors, believed to have been recorded by Hawks, and a recital of reactions to hypnotic mushroom potions.

A university spokesman said Hawks was warned in January to discontinue his experiments.

Mushrooms which cause visions have been known to man since the dawn of history. Mexican Indians use six varieties to heighten the ecstasy of religious ceremonies.

New Seven-Stage Rocket Described

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A space scientist says a seven-stage rocket to take man to the moon within the next four years is in the planning stages.

The rocket, called Nova, was described at a conference here Thursday by Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of space flight development for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Silverstein said the first three stages will be 260 feet tall—about equal to a 28-story building. He gave no details of the final four stages.

The first three stages will power the rocket to the moon. It may carry two or three men. A fourth stage will slow the rocket down for landing on the moon, and the other three will return it to earth.

Red Cross Spends $2 Million in Aid For Flood Victims

Ohio families stricken by the January floods already have received nearly $2 million in free Red Cross aid, Lowell Douce, chairman of the Marion County Red Cross chapter, reported today.

This amount is the biggest share of $2.5 million being distributed for disaster relief in the five states affected by major floods.

Mr. Douce said the Ohio aid was given to 7,863 families.

The Red Cross chapter chairman pointed out that in Marion county and county alone 14 families were given aid through a rehabilitation program. The cost of this project was $2,172, roughly $400 more than the donations given here.

Mr. Douce said he has received a report from Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, containing these statistics.

"The 10,066 families aided," said Gen. Gruenther, "would have been unable to recover from the personal losses they suffered without the help of contributions given by the American people to the Red Cross in regular campaigns as well as in special disaster appeals."

Williams Gets Top Award in 20-30 Activity

A key charm from 20-30 International was presented to Dr. William C. Williams by Max Haines, president of the Marion 20-30 Club, at the Thursday night meeting of the club in the YMCA.

The award, given to members who have brought in 10 or more new members, was given to Dr. Williams for his sponsorship of 11 new members in the local club.

Nineteen members and two guests were present for the business meeting, conducted by Mr. Haines. The guests were Gene Walter and Jack Flohr, both of Marion.

President Haines named Richard Freese, William Myers and Donovan Schuster to the dunking machine committee. In other business the club voted a $25 donation for food for a needy Marion family.

Letters of appreciation read were from the Marion County Heart Association thanking the club for its assistance in stuffing campaign materials in the solicitation kits and from the Marion Public School system for its financial assistance toward the 1959 vocational conference.

Reports on the Wednesday noon meeting of Inter-club Council, from the convention committee on club visitations and on the Easter Egg hunt project concluded the business.

Xenia Crash Sets Off Fight In Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A political dispute has arisen in the Ohio legislature stemming from the car-train crash that killed 10 persons in Greene County.

Rep. Richard B. Metcalf (R-Franklin), on the heels of the grade crossing accident—but without referring directly to it—complained Thursday that his bill to require grade-crossing protection is being held up by the Democratic administration.

There were no flasher warning lights at the crossing where eight Girl Scouts and two mothers met death near Xenia Wednesday.

Following Metcalf's statement, Rep. R. Martin Galvin (D-Lucas) indicated hotly that Metcalf was trying to make a political football out of the accident.

Galvin said: "Even had the (Metcalf) bill been referred (to a House committee for study), it would not have been passed in time to prevent this tragedy. I deeply regret the political motives which prompted the Franklin County Republican to misrepresent the Democratic Party's position on legislation of this nature."

Metcalf was quoted as saying the reason behind the delay in getting his bill to committee is that it would increase the price of auto licenses from $10 to $11 a year to finance the grade-crossing program.

Galvin, chairman of the House Reference Committee where Metcalf's bill still lies, said the administration of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle began pushing for a grade-crossing survey within three weeks after coming into office.

DiSalle got a full report Thursday on the car-train accident from Highway Safety Director Grant Keys. The governor was told that the crossing involved, being on a county road, is outside the state's authority. As a result, it doesn't fall into present state planning for a priority program to protect grade crossings.

There are 11,487 grade crossings in Ohio, DiSalle told newsmen, and of these, 8,597 are without protection of any kind except crossarm signposts.

The remainder, 2,890, have flashers, gates or guards, but a Highway Department survey shows that more than half of all railroad crossing fatalities last year occurred at those protected spots.

Ironically, the crossing where Wednesday's multiple fatality happened was recently filmed by the High Safety Department to show on television as typical of the state's grade-crossing hazards, Keys said.

Scientists Beam Radio Signal To Venus, Echo Comes Back

WESTFORD, Mass. (AP)—An 84-foot dish antenna here has beamed a radar signal 28 million miles to the planet Venus and caught its echo five minutes later.

The 56-million-mile round trip transmission, in February 1958, consumed 10 cents worth of electricity for a 300-kilowatt signal but took nearly half a billion calculations on an electronic brain at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It cost thousands of dollars and months of time.

Scientists at the Lincoln Laboratory project operated by MIT for the Air Force called the feat a notable step in space exploration. They said it permitted the first measurement with great accuracy of inter-planetary distances—an essential to future navigation in space.

The signal—bouncing off Venus, man's nearest neighbor beyond

Conversation, Anyone?

This has been quite a year for conversation, if conversation is quite the word for it. From California, Jack Paar issues a howl of rage to the effect that the movie stars don't know how to ad lib. Yet Hollywood is the place that spawned Oscar Levant from whom you can't get a libber.

From the same community comes word that Pamela Mason on her ad lib show stirred up a small hornet's nest by declaring that Rod Steiger is the kind of actor who scratches his behind and calls it Method acting.

It doesn't seem to me that either Levant or Mrs. Mason need writers, exactly. Just editors.

IN NEW YORK, where conversation might be said to have its headquarters, the conversational show reached a pinnacle of some sort on the Ben Hecht show when Salvador Dali described the three kinds of love as sadism, masochism and platonic love of a rather unusual nature.

Shortly thereafter, Mr. Hecht's show departed the air, not necessarily because of that show. It's been a strange year. With the entertainment shows getting blander and blander, the talk shows have bordered more and more on the sensational.

And the most sensational — in point of pure shock value — was Sam Levenson pleading for a revival of the old-fashioned moral values of his youth. It's been some time since anyone has had the courage to put those sentiments into words.

Still, the conversation flows, especially on WNTA in New York where Ted Cott knows a good thing when he sees it.

ON WNTA, the air pulsates with talk — Fannie Hurst, Mike Wallace, David Susskind, Martin Gabel, Alexander King — and a couple more upcoming. To say nothing of their guests who come, though by no means always, get in a word edge-wise.

One place where no guest has got so much as a single word, in edge or any other wise, is on Alexander King's program. This "painter, playwright, and raconteur," hitherto curbed to 20 minutes or so on Jack Paar's show, has been untethered altogether on his own show called "Alex in Wonderland" on WNTA.

On opening night, King announced he had no guests that night.

"I didn't invite anyone because I didn't want to be interrupted," he explained.

FORTHWITH he plunged into anecdote. This continued for an hour, interrupted only by a marvelously naive drum solo by his young wife.

Is this conversation? Conversation generally is understood to be a colloquy among several people. King's forte is monologue and it is conversation only in the sense that he needs listeners as mammals need air.

They are marvelous stories, full of a distinctive flavor of their own, scatological references, thorny opinions, and wit.

"I deplore the beat generation so much," King said. "I can't read their books. I find them dull and full of self-pity. When I was in my 20s, I belonged to the lost generation, but we were lost with taste." One hour of this was quite a stunt and held me limp with admiration. But I'm not at all sure I'm going to be equally spellbound every week. It's a little exhausting.

ONE OF THE BEST four-gaited, all-round conversationalists I know is Martin Gabel who also has been

Dag the Catalyst on the Way

If the irresistible force continues to move toward the immovable object with a clash scheduled for May 27, disaster will be the certain result.

That is the threat of the Berlin crisis. The question is whether the force and the object can be moved from the collision course that has been plotted by the intangibility of the Soviet Union's attitude about getting the Western Allies out of Berlin and their stubborn attitude about staying there.

The danger is that each position will become so stubbornly fixed by the dictates of nationalism, jealousy of position and prestige and determination not to yield an inch in a potential showdown in the struggle for world power that nothing can alter it.

That has been the kind of deadlock that historically has fired off war between governments. Theoretically, every war could have been averted by reason and conciliation. But in practice reason and conciliation were either wholly lacking at the climactic moment or were inadequate for the purpose of quenching the animosities that were ready to burst into flame.

NEXT TUESDAY, Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations, will reach Moscow. He has been traveling through southeast Asia, keeping in touch with politically flammable situations there.

When he reaches Moscow, where he is expected to stay only three days, the ultimate challenge to him in his role as the world's professional peacemaker will confront him.

Fortunately, his potential usefulness never has been destroyed by the animosity of the Russian government. He is potentially able to talk to the men in the Kremlin as a trusted international diplomat, just as he is able to talk to the officials of the United States, or Britain, or France.

Neither is he committed to support or reject anything, either in Moscow, London, Paris, or Washington—or in Bonn.

He will have only one interest, which is to find a way, if possible, to preserve the United Nations by keeping its members from locking themselves into irreconcilable positions on an international issue that could start a war if their tension cannot be relieved.

DAG HAMMARSKJOLD has been out of the news this year. He has been on his Middle East tour since the waning days of 1958. It is all part of his job, which is to be a catalyst in the mixture of international politics.

A catalyst is a substance that can bring about a desired reaction between other substance in chemistry, without losing its own identity. When it has served its purpose, it can be recovered intact for use again and again.

Perhaps Dag Hammarskjold can do it in time to make sense of the Berlin issue, which is more than anyone else seems to be making at the moment.

The Type of Leadership We Need

Charles D. Harmon touched all the bases in his talk on civic problems before the Marion Kiwanis Club Thursday noon.

Currently president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Harmon is a former member of the city board of education, a past president of the Community Foundation and an active civic leader in many other fields.

He is extremely well qualified to present a report on Marion's shortcomings and needs, and he pulled no punches in Thursday's speech.

We could use a lot more straight talking, straight-thinking leadership of this type in Marion.

This city has an excellent supply of potential community leaders, but in recent years far too little of the talent has been expended on a positive approach.

In most of the civic controversies that have arisen in the last decade, the greater part of the public activity and the most persistent pressure have come from the opponents.

When conscientious citizens have attempted to provide positive leadership for community improvement, their efforts too often have been rewarded by nothing but criticism and disparagement.

Nevertheless, progress never is achieved easily and we badly need dedicated people who can stand up to the battering meted out by the opposition, if they must.

Charles Harmon exhibited that kind of courage, and we hope he has shown the way for others.

As this year's official spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce Mr. Harmon has put the Chamber squarely on the side of progress, which is where it belongs.

Welcome News

The report from Marion personnel managers that nearly all laid-off employees have been recalled is as warming as Thursday's sunny weather.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Personnel Club, in their monthly rundown of employment statistics, revealed that some employers are even taking on new workers, having caught up with the backlog of laid-off employees.

It's another in the heartening signs pointing to a full recovery from last year's recession. Like the spring sun after a cold and weary winter, it's welcome and stimulating news.

Michigan Has a Word for It

One of our editorials recently suggested that Ohioans get ready to send CARE packages to Michigan state employees facing payless pay days.

The Flint Journal took note of it with the observation that all states, including Ohio, were having money trouble this year but that Michigan's trouble was more acute than some because it had been afflicted with "squandermania" for the last 10 years.

"The promise of so many state services and the higher wages in industry," the Journal explained, "attracted thousands to Michigan. But the antibusiness climate at Lansing offered no inducement to the industry needed to provide jobs for the growing population. . . . We have a long and bumpy trek ahead. We must restore fiscal sanity. We must achieve a business and labor climate that will contribute to new employment opportunities for our greater population."

The purpose of the editorial that elicited this comment in The Flint Journal was to show what happens when Spendocrats have a free rein. Sooner or later, they run things into the ditch.

They have had a free rein in Washington, and it is taking every bit of energy that President Eisenhower can muster to curb them before it is too late.

They can think of a thousand reasons for spending more money than they ever spent before — what the Journal calls "squandermania."

But they never peep about matching new spending with new taxes. They know that if they acknowledged that someone must pay there would be a sudden halt to their political pastime of spending and spending and electing and electing.

This has been pointed to for generations as the Achilles heel of popular government — this built-in temptation to buy favor with public money. The question is whether popular government is going to be taken over by Squandermania. In Michigan, the Squandermania have lost some of their popularity.

Could Be the Answer

The rezoning of 960 acres in the northeastern section of Marion Township for industry can be a tremendous boost to this area.

The township trustees are to be congratulated for their favorable approach to the rezoning proposal.

Surrounded as it is by many miles of farm land in all directions, Marion has a great long-range potential for expansion, both industrial and residential.

Yet at the moment it is in need of properly zoned and situated industrial sites in the immediate area, and the acreage in the former Scioto Ordnance area has excellent possibilities.

Nothing would put Marion in high gear so fast as the addition of another sizable industry or two, and availability of the 960 acres in the northeast could do the trick.

The Once Over

The more you think of Hawaii's admission to the Union, the more you wonder it took so long. Half a century is a long time to wait for Congress to be "swayed" by hula hula dancers. We now get one of the beauty spots of the world and Hawaii gets U.S. cowboy telecasts, an enlarged intercontinental tourist program and new income tax problems. If hula hula gals run into a recession in the torso-twisting industry they get unemployment insurance.

HAWAIIAN STATEHOOD cheers us all. In a world of hatreds, war, riots, atomic bombs and guided missiles it is a land that had given nothing more harmful to civilization than the ukulele, straw skirt, papaya juice, loyalty and soft music sweeping across the beaches of a Pacific paradise on a moonlit night. America responds with a loud "Hips, hips, hooray."

Congress has stalled for 58 years in taking Hawaii into the Union, which proves it is a poor judge of bathing beauties, eye-filling scenery and "Aloha" played on the ukulele. Every couple of years its answer to a statehood plea has been met by the House and Senate Travelogue recital of "And so we leave beautiful Hawaii and set sail for our usual Potomac River icefields."

Capt. James Cook discovered Hawaii in 1778. He liked it then, even before he had ever heard any travel lecturer describe it. But little did he think that one day a Vermont man could take a swim at Waikiki Beach and still be in his own country. Hawaii is 2,000 miles from the U.S. as the strawskirt flies. This is a record trip from one state to the border of its sister state.

The admission has made the biggest hit with the home public since "South Pacific." While Rodgers and Hammerstein wrote of different islands, the words and music of "Bali Hai" helped and a lot of congressmen still think "Across A Crowded Room" was a Hawaiian hotel theme song.

KEITH McHUGH quit $158,000 a year telephone job to become Gov. Rockefeller's Commerce Commission chief at $18,500. That's what we call paying the highest telephone bill on record. The governor may have picked McHugh because (1) he wanted to get his message through fast; (2) he wanted to find a way to cut off calls beginning with "I voted for you, but am I having gas and cigarette troubles."

Cerberus in Real Life

Vanishing Rights

By David Lawrence

President Eisenhower says it is "ridiculous" for the Federal Communications Commission to require that equal time be given to political candidates on "news-casts" over radio and television. He has asked Attorney General Rogers to study the legal problems involved.

But it is also incredible that the Congress by law actually specifies that all candidates for political office must be given "equal time" for their speeches during a campaign.

The idea that a governmental agency can instruct a medium of public expression how it may judge news values or edit a program or a publication of any kind would appear on its face to be contrary to the First Amendment to the Constitution, which supposedly guarantees a free press.

But, strange as it may seem, the Supreme Court of the United States as far back as 1921 has held that the government can withdraw second-class-mail privileges if a newspaper does not conform to a governmental order or law.

Similarly, the Federal Communications Commission has a right to withdraw radio or television licenses on the basis of "public interest, convenience and necessity."

This clause was written into the law when Congress prescribed how radio and television licenses should be allocated.

Chief Justice Hughes in 1933, speaking for a unanimous Supreme Court, held that the power to allocate radio licenses was confined solely to mechanical factors, so as to avoid collision of wave lengths and to provide an orderly method of awarding licenses, which are limited in number.

JUSTICE FRANKFURTER, however, writing for the majority in a 5-to-2 opinion of the Supreme Court in 1943, proclaimed that the powers of Congress are much broader. In allocating licenses, he said, the Federal Communications Commission can consider all sorts of social and economic factors. He implied, moreover, that the commission could exercise — through the power to renew licenses periodically — a certain supervision over the policies of broadcasting and television stations.

Back in 1933, when the Federal Communications Commission interpreted the law passed by Congress the previous year as giving the commission the right to specify how program time shall be used in relation to political campaigns, this correspondent wrote that such regulation was an interference with freedom of the press.

The broadcasting industry at the time, however, was reluctant to wage a fight for its rights. Today stations, through their own trade organizations, have shown that they now perceive the dangers arising from the violation of this principle 25 years ago. They are at last ready to do battle on the issue.

Newspapers are by no means protected against similar interferences by the government. Their acceptance of the second-class-mail privilege is analogous to the licenses granted television and radio stations.

CONGRESS IN 1912, acting under the postal power, passed a law requiring publishers to disclose the names of stockholders or bondholders owning more than 1 per cent of the total of each publication. This law was upheld in 1913 by the Supreme Court, which said that the application for second-class-mail rates by a publisher was in fact acceptance of a "privilege" from the government itself and hence renders publishers subject to federal regulation, notwithstanding the First Amendment.

It's a short step now to the passage of a law that says sources of information must be disclosed. Experience has proved that, by protecting sources of news, information can be published which challenges public authority to ferret out scandals and wrongdoing in the community.

THE PRESS has risked contempt cases and jail sentences to protect its news sources. But Congress overnight can pass a law that compels the disclosure of news sources under penalty of the loss of second-class postage rates.

Governmental regulation of the press is today legally permissible because of the existence of a government-granted privilege. In fact, Chief Justice Taft — speaking in behalf of the Supreme Court in 1926 in the famous Booth Fisheries Case — ruled that, by accepting the benefits of a government privilege granted through any law of Congress, an individual or company is actually disqualified from raising the question of constitutionality in court.

In a paper presented to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in April 1944 — after extensive research on the question — this writer suggested the following as a possible addition to the First Amendment to the Constitution:

"The grant, sale or lease of any facilities, licenses or privileges by the United States to the press, to radio broadcasting, to television or to any other medium of public expression shall not vest in the Congress or in any executive agency or in the several states the power to limit, restrict or regulate the contents of any printed publication, radio program, or creative work emanating from any medium of public expression except as any of these media may offend against the common law governing fraud, obscenity or libel or except as acts of treason are committed and punishable under Article III, Sec. 3." No Sudden Cinderella

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK People tell Nan Martin, hailed by some as Broadway's actress of the year, she's lucky.

In reply Nan likes to quote a line from the play she currently is starring in: "It isn't luck when God is good to you."

Nan Martin, a vibrantly slender woman with blue-hazel eyes and hair the color of timemellowed ivory, is no sudden Cinderella.

"Nothing wonderful ever happens to you overnight," she said soberly. "There is a long process of hard work before you take the long stride, the big step."

"I've always wondered what makes people stay in the theater. It's a cruel business. It's a brutal business. You have to work very hard to get by in it, and you have to love it very much to stay in it."

AFTER GETTING off to a good start, Nan did give up the theater for a while—but now she feels she's back to stay.

Nan first tried for a footlight career here at the age of 17, shortly after graduating from a Santa Monica, Calif., high school, where she was the only girl student president in the school's history.

Although she earlier had started studying drama with Max Reinhardt at 12, she first won attention here as a fashion model, and was featured on half a dozen magazine covers.

A role in "The Constant Wife" with Katharine Cornell launched her on her way, but then she married Robert Emmett Dolan, a young producer, and she quit to become "a full-time wife." They moved to the West Coast.

"IT WAS A wonderful life," she said. "We had a house by the ocean. I painted, and learned to cook, and had a son. I was very domestic. I even made slippers in needlepoint for everyone I loved."

"Then one day I found I had to go back to the theater. It was burning inside me. So back I came."

Starting all over, Nan took any kind of theatrical job she could find.

She caught the eye of director Elia Kazan. The phone call from him led her to stardom, as it has many others.

Ike Practices Restraint

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON History may show President Eisenhower's greatest contribution to the presidency was his restraint in time of danger and critical stress. Apparently, it has just paid off again.

In a week's time there has been a definite relaxing of tension over Berlin.

Eisenhower has shown restraint a number of times when, through emotionalism or aggressiveness, he could have precipitated unpredictable events, including war.

When the British, French and Israelis invaded Egypt in 1956—and the Soviet Union threatened retaliation that would have meant world war — Eisenhower cracked down on the Allies to stop and get out. They did.

THE RED CHINESE—bent on destroying Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa—at various times have bombarded the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsau.

Eisenhower could have resorted to extreme steps. He could have ordered American planes to bombard the Chinese mainland.

This would have been a good bet to bring on a war with Red China's ally, the U.S.S.R. Instead, Eisenhower used less drastic means to bolster the defense of the islands and sweat out the Red attacks until the Communists quieted down.

THE SAME was true in Indochina when North Viet Nam was falling to rebel forces of Communist Ho Chi-minh and the French colonial masters of Indochina were disintegrating.

Eisenhower could have sent in American planes to bail out the French and smash the Communists. This could have meant war with Red China. Eisenhower didn't.

True, half of Viet Nam was lost to the Reds. But the rest of the country, freed of the French, began for the first time to have a democratic government of its own.

It can be argued that Eisenhower's restraints were a series of negative actions. But Eisenhower, responsible for the leadership not only of this country but of the Western world, used restraint to avoid catastrophes.

There have been other instances, most recently the Berlin crisis created by Premier Nikita Khrushchev who demanded last Nov. 27 that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin. He appeared to be setting a six-months' deadline for it.

THE WEST assumed he meant by May 27. The West stood firm in refusing to get out, although the Allies eyed each other carefully, wondering if any of them might weaken.

Since November Khrushchev has made puzzling statements, some belligerent, such as warning the West it faced war with the Soviet Union if the Allies, refusing to pull out their troops, attempted to force supplies through Communist East Germany to their Berlin garrisons.

At a couple of news conferences Eisenhower sounded a little heated when talking of Khrushchev and his Berlin demands. He even indicated that any Soviet attempt to throw out the Allies might mean nuclear war.

And he poked hard at Khrushchev, who kept insisting on a summit conference to settle things, that such a conference was useless until the Soviet leader began showing more signs of willingness to negotiate.

Whether or not Khrushchev took this as a real nudge, only he knows. But at least in recent weeks he has talked less belligerently, put more stress on the value of negotiations, and repeatedly said he wasn't setting a deadline or laying down an ultimatum.

THEN LAST Monday night, as if responding to increasing reasonableness from Khrushchev, Eisenhower in his nationwide broadcast carefully avoided any sign of belligerency or irritation.

He went further than he ever had before, although laying down some conditions, in suggesting not only that a summit conference was possible but that it could be held this summer.

Thursday Khrushchev called a giant news conference. He too sounded reasonable and praised Eisenhower for his reasonableness.

That Was Spring

By Truman Twill

Spring isn't what it used to be. To set things straight, spring isn't what it used to be even if you are Sweet 16.

In spite of all the complaining about the harshness of this winter, there is no comparison between harsh winters now and their harshness before the Era of Comfort began.

What can people who ride in heated automobiles, sleep under electric blankets in heated bedrooms, live in houses with central heating systems and work in buildings made comfortable by space heaters possibly know about the release from suffering that spring used to bring?

Rare was the kid who didn't have a frost-bitten toe or ear by the end of winter in that rugged era.

Chapped hands were the universal rule, along with chapped faces. People who worked outside didn't have the advantage of places to dodge into to get warm; they clenched their teeth and put up with their discomfort all day.

When they caught colds, which they did incessantly, they sniffled through the consequences interminably. There were no palliatives, no way to cut short the period of suffering and no way to avert the side effects.

These ran the range from "beal-ed" cars to pneumonia. La grippe was a scourge that knocked off the weak and ailing the way a March gale prunes out the branches of trees.

Even as fundamental a present-day comfort as overshoes could not be counted on then, because their design and quality had not been made fool-proof. With foot-wear as with clothing, the idea was to shut out the cold and the dampness with bulk and more bulk. Everything was heavy and unwieldy.

Then came spring. . . . It meant release from high-top shoes impregnated with grease to make them water-repellent, from coat-of-armor underwear stiff from many washings, from crusty mittens and cumbersome mackinaws and sheepskin coats.

It meant release from salt pork and pickled meat, eggs preserved in water glass and an endless round of canned and dried food.

It meant being warm all over on the first sunny days, no more shivering in unheated autos and buggies, pumping water without thawing out pumps and not worrying about the probability that water pipes in unheated houses would freeze and burst.

It meant release from involuntary confinement in winter isolation—a chance to get out and see a world that had been barred by impassable roads and city streets without storm sewers and often without sidewalks.

No wonder they used to talk about spring "bursting forth," except it was not spring that did the bursting; it was the people. They wriggled out of their winter-ripped cocoons like butterflies and started a new life cycle.

Then as now, spring always was vexingly late in arriving, but the fact of its being on the way was like the promise of a parole from prison. No one who cannot remember how it was can understand why it isn't what it used to be. Today, bad as winter is, it is only a slowdown in the tempo of living. It used to be a stoppage. And when life started anew, people went a little bit crazy, as they do now, only crazier, in fact, man, the craziest.

Bible Words for Today

JOB 5:7 — "Man is born unto trouble, as the sparks fly upward." (KJV)

The writer of Job dealt with one of the most troublesome problems of mankind. How does one explain evil in a world created by a good God?

One looks around and finds sickness, death, catastrophic events of nature, One reads of war and predictions of war in the newspapers. Why is this?

It is a temptation to give a simple answer to a complex question. Man is a limited and a finite creature. Some kinds of suffering can be explained. Sin brings suffering — so does laziness. Some people are also caught in the web of other men's follies and suffer through no fault of their own. Some suffer in order to help redeem the world.

Even though one cannot explain all tragedy, in times of suffering one should strive to say, "I will be all right. God is with me."

Defense Dept. Issuing Few Details on Nuclear Space Blasts

Top Deputy Has Session With Press

Valuable Scientific And Military Data Produced, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's spectacular high altitude nuclear blasts produced valuable information for both military men and scientists, officials say.

But they are talking only in general terms about knowledge gained from the three space explosions late last summer which sent a man-made electronic sheet around the world.

Holds News Conference

After the high-hush tests became known, Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles told a news conference Thursday:

1. The world's first nuclear nuclear blasts in space helped the national security.

2. The tests advanced the basis of knowledge required to develop antimissile missiles; they produced results that will be used in perfecting radar systems needed to put an antimissile missile on course; they gave information to back up the Nike-Zeus antimissile now under development.

3. The explosions 300 miles above the South Atlantic will help U.S. offensive weapons.

Get No Answers

Questions about the "how" of these statements got no answers. Pentagon officials, however, indicated knowledge that certain radio frequencies and electromagnetic impulses would be interrupted by high altitude radiation.

The tests indicated a sort of electronic veil can be thrown around the earth to cut radar and radio reception. This might make it possible to knock out a nation's early warning system by nuclear blasts on the edges of space. Even if the invisible veil lasted only hours, it would be long enough to hide the rapid advance of attacking missiles or bombers.

Effects Questioned

On the other hand, some sources had suggested a high nuclear blast could release enough radiation to make a dud of an enemy nuclear bomb. But many physicists doubt this is even a possibility.

Nonmilitary results of the tests eventually will be made public.

Nine ships of a special Navy task force took part in the secret project known as Argus. They included the aircraft carrier Tarrara and four destroyers. The 57-foot-long rockets that jabbed into space with their atomic payload were launched from the converted seaplane tender Norton Sound last Aug. 27, Aug. 30 and Sept. 6.

Drowns at Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Andrew Monsinski, 63, Cleveland, drowned Thursday when he slipped and fell into a 20-foot-deep aeration tank at the sewage disposal plant in Cuyahoga Heights. He was visiting friends at the plant, where he formerly was employed.

Weather Report

Forecast for Central Ohio — Showers and scattered thunderstorms this evening and tonight. Low tonight 45. Saturday windy with showers and scattered thunderstorms and turning colder, high 55.

Judge Weighs Arguments in Damage Case

Oral arguments on a motion for a new trial filed by the New York Central Railway Co. of Marion in an effort to set aside a $20,000 judgment awarded last month to a Caledonia man were taken under advisement today by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith.

The verdict was returned by a Common Pleas Court jury on Feb. 19 in a $80,000 damage suit filed by Lester T. Gleessen for injuries he allegedly suffered when his car was struck by a switch engine at an alley crossing between Oak and Prospect streets here in February 1956.

Arguments for a new trial were presented by Robert O. Stout and Ralph E. Carhart, attorneys for the railroad.

They said the railroad was prevented from having a fair trial that the judgment was "excessive and not sustained by the evidence." ... and that two of the jurors "were not properly qualified electors" at the time of the trial.

An affidavit to that effect from the Marion County Board of Elections was attached to the motion. Elandes E. Miller, elections board clerk, was called as a witness.

The two jurors referred to were Mrs. Madeline Sharp of near New Bloomington and Mrs. Nellie F. Weimer of 348 Bradford St.

Opposing the motion on behalf of Mr. Gleessen was Theodore Parsell of the Moore, Myers and Parsell law firm.

Attorneys will file briefs before Judge Smith gives his decision.

Harmon

Two years were started, Marion needed virtually a new sewer system and we have a long way to go to catch up with our inadequacies on both sanitary and storm sewers, he said. To handle the task properly more long-term financing should be provided.

9. Streets and traffic. Marion has been afflicted by random street patching for many years. The patching costs the city approximately $40 a ton, and it is estimated blacktop or hot mix could be purchased from commercial sources for $7.50 a ton. "Our streets simply must be brought up to standard and I certainly favor the proposed income tax as offering a partial solution," Mr. Harmon said.

10. Off-street parking and downtown renovation. Cities must face up to changing conditions brought about by modern transportation and increased traffic, and main arteries must be cleared. For that reason, the development of new off-street parking areas is important. Much of our downtown section is "in deplorable condition," he said.

"If you have guests from out of the city do you rush them downtown to show it off?" he asked. "A great deal more civic pride should be exhibited by property owners in the business district and an almost complete facelift is needed," he said.

In the early part of his talk, Mr. Harmon declared the Chamber has a strong interest in bringing new plants into Marion. The population of the county has risen from 43,420 in 1930 to nearly 60,000 at present, he said, and industrial payrolls have jumped from $16,000,000 in 1941 to more than $70,000,000 in 1958.

"Industrial employment in 1930 at the beginning of the depression was a little over 2,100," he said, "and at present tops 13,000 with the lowest point reached in the recent recession being 12,654."

Ten Marion Kiwanians went to Toledo last Saturday for the annual state Kiwanis bowling tournament, it was announced at yesterday's meeting. A team composed of John Smith, John Dowler, Joe Yammell, John Heuser and Lanier Wood placed 10th in Class B, and another team of Dr. A. J. Wagner, Harry Lurye, Dale Weaver, Merle Burch and C. L. Baxter placed 23th.

Guests Thursday were Lou Conkle, Karl Dune, H. E. Weisjer, Edward Miller, Homer Cole, R. F. Lowry and Walter Haldeman of Marion, and L. L. Garver of Mount Gilead.

Mr. Campbell said that tickets are limited to 150 and that the price per ticket for couples is $5. Money raised from the affair will be used to help pay for a new police recreation center, he said.

New Bloomington Files Suit Seeking To Clear Up Title

The Village of New Bloomington filed an action in Common Pleas Court Thursday in an effort to clear the way for sale of a piece of land in the village square which has been held up for nearly two years.

The village seeks a declaratory judgment establishing clear title to the land so that it can be turned over to the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association of Columbus.

In May 1957 the village declared the land as excess. It accepted a $1,500 bid from the Farm Bureau in July 1957. Involved is about .25 of an acre between the village building and the New York Central Railroad tracks in the northern part of the village square.

Actual sale of the land, however, was blocked because no clear title could be established.

Charles Harmon, of the Guthery, Harmon and Conkle law firm which represents the Farm Bureau, said there was some question as to whether the community had established proprietary interest in the land and thus a representative class suit was filed. He said representative parties are selected as defendants in such actions.

Named as defendants are the Farm Bureau, and New Bloomington resident, Roy K. Jones, Mabel Jones, William R. Davis; the New York Central Railroad; Princess M. Carlyle, Clarence E. Keeton, Irene M. Keeton, John Morland, Helen Morland, Herman A. Napper, Clara Mae Napper, Charles W. Imbody, Lester W. Moury, Annabelle M. Moury, John Hickman, Irma Hickman, all of New Bloomington, and unknown heirs and devisees of the late A. W. Buell.

The law firm of Donithen, Michel and Davis represents the village.

Auto Accidents

A nine-year-old Prospect boy was injured Thursday when he was knocked from his bicycle by an auto at the intersection of W. Water and N. Main streets in Prospect.

State patrolmen here said the youth, Jeffrey C. Keller, was traveling east on Water St. and attempted a left turn onto N. Main St. into the path of a westbound auto driven by Archie L. Myers, 51, of Prospect.

According to the report, the Myers auto was unable to stop in time to avoid striking the bicyclist. The youngster suffered abrasions of the right thigh, elbow and knee, and contusions of the hip and upper lip.

He was treated at the accident scene and later at home by his family physician.

Patrolmen said the car was only slightly damaged, but the bike was badly damaged. The mishap occurred at 5:15 p.m.

Each of the three accidents investigated in the city Thursday by city police caused total damage estimated at less than $100. Details were not reported.

Faces Charge Here

Charles H. Reese Jr., 39, who lists no home address, was arrested on Creston Ave. at 3 p.m. Thursday by police on a bench warrant issued by Marion County Common Pleas Court Judge Paul D. Smith. The warrant charged Reese with violation of probation.

According to the report Mrs. Pollack was passing another car and failed to see the oncoming Jolly auto. Officers said the two vehicles collided in the southbound lane with extensive damage resulting to both.

Mrs. Pollack posted bond to appear in Bucyrus Mayor's Court, charged with passing without assured clear distance.

Man Fined $100, Costs After State Patrol Chase

DELAWARE — Harvey J. Yost Jr., 25, of Columbus, was fined a total of $100 and costs and had his driving rights suspended for one year when he appeared in Delaware Municipal Court today.

He was charged with reckless operation and driving on an expired license. The charges were filed by state patrolmen here after a 10-mile chase early Tuesday morning.

Patrolmen said the chase started in Delaware County at Kingman Hill and led into Franklin County when the patrol car was unable to overtake Yost's speeding vehicle.

Officers said they clocked him at an estimated speed of 165 miles an hour during the chase. Yost finally stopped when confronted with a roadblock at the intersection of Routes 161 and 33.

Patrolmen said they radioed ahead for sheriff's deputies to set up the barrier after they were unable to stop Yost.

Steelworkers Chief Lashes Out at Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, today accused the steel industry of using the USW as a "whipping boy" for the causes of inflation, unemployment, and "every real and fancied evil which has beset the economy."

In a prepared address before a convention of District 4 of the union, representing about 75,000 workers in New York state, McDonald said:

"Let's set the record straight with a few facts on such matters as inflation, the so-called import-export imbalance and the hardships purportedly wreaked on those of fixed income."

For the steel industry's troubles, McDonald said, "a whipping boy is needed. And the Steelworkers, as usual, are elected."

As for unemployment, McDonald pointed to automation in industry. In the same vein, he contended that "strike talk is fermenting only by industry. No steelworker ever expressed a desire to strike . . . A fair and honorable agreement is all we seek, preferably as far in advance of our contract deadlines as possible."

McDonald said the USW is not opposed to automation, "But we are opposed to automatically wrecking our economy by robotizing production without making provisions to maintain the human purchasing power required to absorb that production."

Wesleyan Is Rested As Evacuation Center

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom said today Civil Defense officials are considering a return to Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware as the evacuation center for state officials in event of enemy attack.

Ohio's Civil Defense head made the report at Gov. Michael S. DiSalle's weekly cabinet meeting.

The alternate seat of state government was shifted last year from the Delaware school to Ohio University at Athens. This year's evacuation exercise is slated for next month.

Windom said the trip to Athens took longer, that roads, communications and other facilities were better north of Columbus.

Vote for Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, with the help of Ohio's Democratic Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young, has passed, 58-25, an amendment charging $1,375,000,000 of U.S. International Monetary Fund subscriptions to the budget in the next fiscal year.

Four From Marion 'Y' Named To Ohio-West Virginia Group

Four persons were elected to represent the Marion YMCA on the Ohio-West Virginia Area Council of YMCA's at the monthly meeting of the YMCA board of directors, Thursday.

Robert Morrison, president of the Marion YMCA, was named to a three-year term. Mrs. William Kimball and the Rev. Irvin W. Emmons will serve two-year terms and David H. Jones, executive secretary, was elected for a one-year term.

They will be invited to attend the annual meeting of the Area YMCA Council in Akron April 10 and 11.

The board of directors also announced the nomination of Mr. Jones as a member of the National Council of the YMCA. He recently completed a one-year term as a National Council member, and is seeking re-election for a three-year term. The election will be conducted at the area council meeting.

A final report of the YMCA membership campaign was given by Mrs. Richard Morgan, chairman of the membership committee. She announced that a total of 682 members had been secured which represented 90 per cent of the intended goal of 750 members. "We are greatly encouraged," she said. "More family and par-

Sick Call Tale Repeated by 2 New Yorkers

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Rochester, N.Y. brothers are telling the State Investigation Commission the same story told by others—that they were only visiting a sick host at the time a gangland convention was held at Joseph Barbara's Apalachin, N.Y., mansion.

The testimony may not open jail doors for Frank Valenti, 47, and Costenze Valenti, 32.

Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet said the brothers "were very well rehearsed" for their appearance at a public hearing Thursday.

Grumet called Frank's testimony "inherently incredible" and "unquestionably unworthy of belief."

Costenze repeated much that his brother had said. He said the auto trip to Apalachin, N.Y., was meant as a social call.

The Valentis and five other men have been in jail here since August for refusing to answer questions before the commission. They were jailed indefinitely for contempt on State Supreme Court orders.

Court Expects To Name Jury In Killing Case

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Selection of a jury to hear the love triangle murder case against Mrs. Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas appeared certain today to go into the second and possibly the third week of her trial.

Painstaking questioning by the state and defense on prospective jurors' views on capital punishment, self defense and pre-conceived opinions exhausted the special venire of 200 by adjournment time Thursday.

Judge Thomas J. Faulconer ordered a new special venire of 175 drawn, with 75 summoned for Monday, 50 for Wednesday and 50 for the following Monday.

The state contends the attractive divorcee planned the shooting of her married sweetheart, drug firm executive Forrest Teel, when he jilted her for a new girl friend. Mrs. Nicholas has said her revolver fired accidentally as she tried to defend herself from a "roughing up."

Fifteen prospective jurors were removed by state challenges Thursday when they said they could not vote for a death sentence. The state has removed 24 for this reason.

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Twenty-five youths from the Durban YMCA today claimed they had packed themselves into a telephone booth to set a record in the new international craze. When they were all packed in, the phone rang. None of the human sardines could answer it.

Use Caution in Rubbish Fires, Chief Urges After Rash of Calls

With the advent of spring weather, Fire Chief Owen A. Siffritt today issued a warning for local residents to exercise caution in burning rubbish.

He said three of the five fires extinguished by city firefighters during the last 24 hours were caused by rubbish blazes which spread out of control.

The chief cited several simple rules to avoid needless damage. First of all, he said, all rubbish fires should be started no less than 50 feet from the property line or nearest building. If they are set in a covered container, the distance should be 15 feet from any building.

Both these rules, explained the chief, are city law and violators can be prosecuted.

Stay With It. Another important factor in controlling rubbish fires, said Chief Siffritt, is to stay with them until they have completely died out.

He urged residents to adhere to these rules for the safety of citizens and property.

The following fire runs were reported for Thursday:

Rubbish being burned at the rear of the Clark E. Jones residence spread into adjoining fields just east of the city on Fairground St. at 2:43 p.m. Firemen of the Mark St. Station extinguished the blaze. No loss was reported.

A rubbish fire at the rear of 126 Fies Ave., residence of Mrs. Byron Sparks, spread into grass at 4:09 p.m. W. Center St. firemen reported no loss.

Three runs made early today were:

Supplemental Pay Benefits Due in 90 Days

Governor Signs Bill; Retroactive Clause May Be Challenged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In 90 days, Ohio's jobless workers can start collecting supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) without those payments being deducted from state jobless compensation.

That's what the State Supreme Court said couldn't be done under previously existing statutes.

The SUB law will go into effect June 19, unless, in the meantime, fees carry through a threat to put it to a vote of the people.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle signed the law Thursday a few hours after the Legislature completed action on the measure and adjourned for the weekend.

The bill lacks an emergency clause to make it effective upon the governor's signature. Hence the 90-day wait.

DiSalle acted even though the law's release of 25 million dollars in back SUB payments admittedly might violate the Ohio constitution.

Issues Statement

In a prepared statement, DiSalle said of the law:

"Under its provisions, labor and management may legally bargain and enter freely into contracts providing for the payment of funds specifically set aside for the unfortunate eventuality of unemployment.

"This money is a trust provided by labor and again leads to a solution of problems without the interference of government. Actions of this kind must be encouraged. . . . "Although the question of the possible unconstitutionality of the retroactive provision of the bill has been raised, this question . . . is not one that the chief executive must necessarily consider in the approval of the legislation. . . . "The savings clause of the act would still make effective the legality of the affected contracts, even though the one provision might be deemed to be questionable. It is with all these considerations in mind that I affix my signature to this long-delayed measure."

Senate Holds Action

The Senate will wait until it reconvenes Monday to reconsider a bill to set the last Monday in May instead of May 30 as Memorial Day in Ohio. The bill was defeated in its first airing on the Senate floor Wednesday.

The House Industry and Labor Committee approved a bill, H.R. 11-5, then swam 90 feet to shore to establish a $1 an hour minimum wage in the state.

The House Taxation Committee Chairman, A. G. Lencione (D-Belmont), expressed hope that some of the administration's tax bills will be recommended for passage next week. These measures include proposals to double the corporation franchise tax, increase the cigarette tax two cents a pack and the tax on 32 beer by $1 a barrel.

Palm Sunday

PALM SUNDAY — With Jesus' triumphant entry, stands at the beginning of Holy Week with its plaudits, threats, tears, and its message of Hope. This day calls to mind the cheering multitudes who hailed Jesus as a conquering King. It is a day of victory but Jesus was not deceived by the words of any for He knew that, all too soon, these same followers would be shouting "Crucify Him!"

The Last Monday

The last MONDAY of our Lord's earthly life was a Day of Authority as He cast out the thieving money-changers and pleaded for the "House of Prayer." Tuesday was a day of Controversy as our Lord poured forth an indignant condemnation upon the Pharisees, gave us the Great Commandment; and watched the widow make her sacrificial offering.

Wednesday—A Day Of Retirement

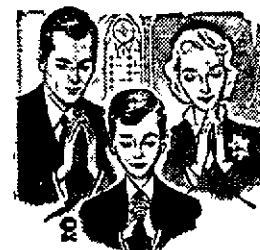

WEDNESDAY was a Day of Retirement as the Lord spent the day with friends at Bethany. Maundy Thursday was a Day of Fellowship as our Lord gathered the 12 in that "Upper Room" to keep the Passover. On this day the sacrament of "The Lord's Supper" was founded.

GOOD FRIDAY

GOOD FRIDAY was the Day of Suffering as Jesus gave His life upon the cross to save us from our sins and to give us victory over death and hell.

We need to keep close to the events of Holy Week and thus come to the Easter Day with a triumphant song in our hearts, being like Jesus, forgetful of self in our love for others, that we may have eternal life.

Paying Your Income Tax

Deductions Often May Ease Burden

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — You'll save money on your 1958 income tax return if you can claim enough deductions. And some people can reduce their tax by subtracting for things like sick pay and dividend credits.

If you were home ill only seven days or less, the pay you get is taxable. You can't exclude it. If you were home sick more than seven days, you can exclude for every day thereafter up to $100 a week.

Fifth of a Series

If you were laid up at home because of injury, or were hospitalized for as little as one day, you can start excluding your sick pay from the first day of absence, without waiting out the seven-day period that applies to illness alone.

SICK PAY, technically, is an exclusion, not a deduction. You claim it on line six, page one, Form 1040. You can't claim it on 1040A. For further information, check page seven of the Internal Revenue Service instruction sheet.

Remember: You can deduct the first $50 of dividends from stock you own in domestic corporations. You can deduct $100 if your wife owns the stock jointly with you and files a joint return with you.

Then there's the thing called dividend credits. You can deduct 4 per cent of what's left of your dividends — after subtracting the Deductions—and how to calculate them—have mystified many a taxpayer pushing against the April 15 income tax deadline. This article on the income tax gives you some helpful hints on how to claim what's coming to you.

$50 just mentioned—on page four, schedule J, Form 1040.

Then deduct that 4 per cent—that you arrived at on schedule J—from tax on page one of Form 1040. You can't use this dividend credit benefit on Form 1040A. There's no place for it there.

THERE'S SOMETHING else if you're retired and on pension or annuities. Retired people get back, tax free, the amount they paid toward pension or annuity plans while working. For more on this see page 12 of the instruction sheet.

Now for the so-called regular deductions:

Everyone filing a return gets a deduction of about 10 per cent from his income for personal expenses—up to a limit of $1,000 for a single person or a couple filing jointly — without itemizing and whether your deductible items ran that much. The limit for a couple filing separately is $500 each.

If your deductible expenses were more than 10 per cent, then itemize, and thus claim all you're entitled to.

You can deduct interest: On your house mortgage; a life insurance policy if you pay the interest in cash; delinquent taxes; your personal note to a bank or individual; or on personal property like automobiles and radios bought on the installment plan.

You can deduct: state income taxes, personal property taxes, real estate taxes, state gasoline taxes, auto license and registration fees (but not auto inspection fees except as a business expense where the auto is used to produce income), poll taxes, and most retail sales taxes.

YOU CAN deduct for contributions to:

Organizations set up for purposes that are charitable, religious, educational, scientific, or literary. Examples: Community Chest, Salvation Army, churches, Red Cross, cancer associations, tuberculosis societies, gifts but not dues to YMCA, YWHA, YWCA, YWHA, American Legion, societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

Medical expenses:

You can claim them only by itemizing on Form 1040 and only that much of your medical expenses that is more than three per cent of your adjusted gross income. You arrive at your adjusted gross income on line 11, page 1, Form 1040. If you or your wife were 65 or over the 3½ per cent limit does not apply. For further details, see page 9 of your Form 1040 instruction sheet.

Casualty losses and theft: You can deduct the net amount of actual property loss from accident, fire, storm, or theft.

CARE OF CHILDREN and certain other dependents:

You can deduct up to $600—if you are widowed, divorced or legally separated—for money spent to care for dependents who are under 12 or are physically or mentally unable to care for themselves. Under certain circumstances a working wife can claim this deduction — as outlined on page 10 of your Form 1040 instruction sheet.

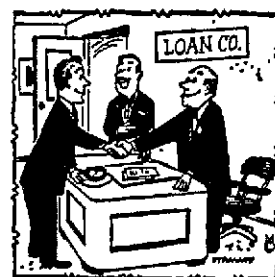

This care must be necessary to allow you, the taxpayer, to hold a job or seek one.

Education: You can deduct expenses for your education but only if it was to help you improve or keep up with the skills in your job. You can't deduct if the education was to help you get a better job or for personal purposes.

Miscellaneous: You may deduct for union dues, dues in professional societies, all money payments by the person making them, fees to employment agencies, club dues if they're necessary for business purposes; books or newspapers purchased wholly for use in your profession.

Relief Rolls Stay Up

Federal Food Surplus Could Aid U.S. Jobless

By VICTOR RIESEL

Unless we're ready to plow under one out of every 10 American unemployed men and women, this country had better start feeding millions of jobless with what we plow up. Man doth not live by bread only — but that's just about what hundreds of thousands soon may find themselves doing in the now plentiful pockets of poverty—where the needy received an average of $16 worth of surplus foods in 1958.

The keeper of the almost 10 billion dollars worth of federal surplus foods was far more mellow in 1956. Then the government opened its heart, hands and bins for an average of $29 worth of food for a needy person—to cover the entire year, of course. Just why this munificence was cut almost in half white joblessness jumped twice what it was—no keeper of the bins will tell you.

THE 15 BUCKS worth of surplus foods last year gave the needy one certain surcease from what seems to trouble many of us. He just didn't have to count calories and worry about dieting. The 1,600 pennies brought the poor of our land an average of 101 pounds of food in 1958.

This was a slash program. For in the preceding year the bin keepers just shoveled the stuff at the millions who had to gulp down their pride so they could eat. In 1957, the average surplus handout was 140 pounds a person—just under 40 ounces a week.

Pardon me a statistic—but the average consumption of a man on a job is 1,500 pounds of food a year. This means that the needy had to dig up the extra money—retail prices, of course.

And there was exactly 5,230,044 needy persons reaching even for this meagerness last December. They've gotten mostly cheese, butter, non-fat dry milk, rice, flour, and cornmeal. I say they "got" some of this—but this year the guardians seem to have run out of cheese. There's no fowl, pork and beef products either—though farmers have them available and there are laws which say that the government can buy these up, process them and feed the needy a livable diet.

THE FEDERALS could vary the diet by processing the huge amounts of peanuts and cooking fats too. The stuff is there. It would help.

It takes money, certainly. But for whom would these bills total? It may come as a shock to the $7 tenderloin crowd, but there were 829,550 needy folk taking surplus foods to stretch their calories in Pennsylvania last December. There were 538,385 in Michigan, more than 348,000 in New York, Kentucky had 255,000 and there were 331,000 in Mississippi.

These are just a few of the statistics which are mighty vital to the depression areas.

In many states the figures are low because authorities haven't set up distribution facilities even for what is available. New Jersey, now hard hit by layoffs of more than 250,000, has only 20,000 getting surplus. The figure for Massachusetts is 3,609 though textile towns there need help for their jobless.

THE ENTIRE distribution system creaks—which is a kindly word for it. There are, for example, many welfare offices which demean the applicants and then deduct the cost of the surplus food from the welfare relief check.

Yet I've been authoritatively informed that "the surplus food program — is not a substitute for COLD CLEANUP. After a wearying battle with a blaze in freezing weather in Milwaukee, fireman Ed Schultz has task of clearing his engine of its ice coating.

relief or other assistance but rather is supplemental to such programs. Unfortunately, in some cases attempts have been made to deduct money from relief grants to compensate for surplus foods received. In accepting commodities, agencies assisting needy people must agree in writing not to reduce the level of financial or other assistance provided to the needy person because of the donation of the U.S. Department of Agriculture commodity.

Stand aside, you who have not hungered. Some of us have. And remember, somehow we will be our brothers' keepers. (Hali Syndicate)

Germany Gets 2nd American Missile Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is sending a second Redstone missile unit to Germany to buttress North Atlantic Pact ground forces in Europe. It will leave next month.

In announcing this Wednesday the Army said the move was planned some time ago.

The Redstone, currently the Army's longest range surface-to-surface ballistic missile, has a range of 200 miles and can carry a nuclear warhead.

The unit tapped for the transfer is the 46th Artillery Group, now stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla. The 46th has 650 officers and men and two Redstone firing batteries — each equipped with one launcher. The first Redstone unit was sent to Europe last year and is attached to the 7th Army in Germany.

On Capitol Hill, Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy was quoted Wednesday as saying the United States has the military power to back up a firm stand at Berlin.

McElroy appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in support of President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

Toll Bridge Receiving Special Heat Treatment

CHICAGO (AP)—On a cold day in the Chicago area, one of the hottest stretches of highway is the 22-lane toll plaza of the new Calumet Skyway bridge.

Beneath the concrete is an underground radiator that heats an area of about 58,000 square feet whenever ice or snow make the pavement slippery.

Coaches Ask Change in Ohio Regional Cage Play

Northwest District May Lose Qualifier

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's basketball coaches, a bit militant, want to change the regional high school tournament setup.

The directors of the mentors' association, at their annual meeting Thursday night, urged the state association to slash one regional team from northwestern representation, and add one to the combined central, eastern and southeastern sectors.

Effective Next Year
Since Ohio's eight survivors of 412 Class AA and 601 Class A teams go into state tournament finals today at Ohio State's St. John Arena, the mentors would change the setup for next year.

Under present regional regulations, the central, southeastern and eastern districts name three regional qualifiers, the northwestern sector 6, the northwestern 3 and the southwestern 4.

The coaches want the regional representation to be 4 from the combined central, southeastern and eastern districts, 6 from the northeast, 2 from the northwest and four from the southwest.

The new plan would have the 36 central district teams in Class AA play down to 6, pick up two from the eastern district and play down to two for the regional qualifier. Eastern teams would play from 31 down to six, and send four to the southeastern and two to the central. And the southeastern would play from 26 teams down to four, and picking up four from the eastern division, would play down to two teams to join two teams from the central group in the regionals.

The northeastern district's Cleveland area would play from 76 to 6 teams, and the Akron, Canton, Youngstown area from 85 to 6. The surviving dozen would then play to six, with 4 making up one regional and the other 2 making up a regional with two teams from the northwest sector.

Would Reduce Travel
The coaches figure the proposed setup would eliminate some travel such as popped up this year when Ironston journeyed to Cleveland and Columbus East to Toledo for regional tournaments.

Ohio Golfer Wins

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Fitton, Hamilton, Ohio, defeated Carol Mann, Flossmoor, Ill., 3 and 2 in the first round of the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament here Thursday.

In other action, the coaches decided that H. W. Emswiler, retiring commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. is entitled to a lifetime membership in the coaches' association; that a plaque should be awarded to the winning Class AA and Class A mentors in the current state tournament; that no coach should be reappointed to the north-south all-star staff within a five-year period, and that only coaches reaching the regional would be eligible for all-star game appointments.

The coaches, in their recommendation that the Class AA regional representation be shifted, stressed that the new setup does not disturb the present Class A plan.

Tourney Play Opens
Meanwhile the survivors of 412 Class AA and 601 Class A quintets are ready to battle it out in the 37th state championship tournament starting today at St. John Arena on the Ohio State campus.

In the semifinals, the schedule for today is:

CLASS A
Salem Local (27-0) vs Lynnwood-Jacksontown (22-4) at 1:30 p.m.

Northwestern (25-2) (Defending champion) vs Edgerton (24-3) at 3 p.m.

CLASS AA
Cleveland East Tech (23-0) (defending champion) vs Toledo Scott (20-4) at 7:30 p.m.

Middletown (21-4) vs Salem (24-1) at 9 p.m.

The coaches also selected the players and coaches for the second annual north-south all-star game to be played June 20 at Troy's Hobart Arena, but withheld announcement of the names until next week.

Rain Stops Opening of Golf Action

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Touring pro golfers were ready to take another stab at getting the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open under way today after being thwarted Thursday by a steady downpour which left the Lakeside course virtually one big unplayable lake.

If play can be started today the 71-hole tournament will run through Monday instead of Sunday.

Probably the most thankful for the day's delay is Gary Player, the South African who performed so sensationally over here last year. He won one event, tied for first in two others, losing the playoffs; was second in the National Open, and grossed nearly $22,000 in this country in 1958.

Player made a flying trip from Johannesburg by way of London to arrive in time to open his 1959 competition in the United States here, and he just can't get adjusted to the time change.

He kept dropping off to sleep while holding a daytime conversation with a friend, who finally asked what was wrong.

"It's 5 o'clock in the morning in South Africa," Player said apologetically. "I just don't feel right. I don't expect to be right for about three weeks. I don't believe I'll do well here at all."

Thomas Hopes To Step Up His Homer Output

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Sluggish Frank Thomas has an idea he'll be able to blast more home runs this season in Crosley Field for Cincinnati's Reds.

He said Thursday a round-trip hit was tougher when he was with Pittsburgh's Pirates because Forbes Field is more spacious.

"There must have been from 15 to 20 drives that were caught on me in Pittsburgh last year that would have been over the fence at Crosley Field," he said.

He added: "That, of course, doesn't mean that I would have hit that many more at Crosley Field."

"Undoubtedly, they would have pitched me differently there or the game situation might have been different so that it would have changed the strategy."

Forbes Field's biggest dimensions are 365 feet to the left field fence and 457 feet to the center field fence.

The top distances of Crosley Field are 366 feet to the right field screen and 390 feet to the center field fence.

Cincinnati officials decided that part of the team will fly to Havana for exhibition games with Los Angeles' Dodgers tonight and Saturday.

Enough players will stay behind to complete the regularly scheduled exhibition with Philadelphia today at Clearwater, if weather clears.

Delany Changes Mind, Will Run at Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ron De-Truex whipped Lawrence and to him, the world's fastest indoor mile, has changed his mind again. He will compete in the Knights of Columbus track meet here tonight.

And he will be running against Istvan Rozsavolgyi of Hungary. The Irish flash had to come from behind in the final lap in New York two weeks ago to defeat the Hungarian in the record time of 4:01.4.

Meet Officials Storm

Delany had entered the meet here and was being billed as the feature attraction. Wednesday he announced he would not compete because of the pressure of his studies at Villanova. Meet officials stormed and talked of asking for Delany's suspension.

However, he telephoned from Miami, Fla., Thursday night and told J. L. (Jake) Leicht, meet director:

"I just want to come in quietly and run my race. Yes, I have my plane ticket."

Peter Close of St. John's, who paced Delany and Rozsavolgyi in the record-breaking mile, will also run in tonight's mile.

Lead in 2 Mile Field

Another event, the two mile run, will get feature treatment with a trio of swift distance runners in the spotlight.

They are Al Lawrence of the University of Houston, Little Max Truex of Southern California and Hungary's Laszlo Tabori.

Lawrence set the world indoor record of 8:46.8 two weeks ago. Two nights later in Milwaukee,

Bradley, St. Johns Clash for NIT Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Bradley 22-22, but then the witching hour struck. A free throw and basket by Dick Engert broke the tie. Providence never threatened again.

The top-seeded Braves, fourth ranked nationally, and the New York Redmen reached the final by whipping NYU and Providence, respectively, in Thursday night's semifinals before a sellout 18,494 at Madison Square Garden.

Bradley Blows Lead
Bradley blew a 10-point lead in the second half, but pulled out a 59-57 squeaker over NYU. St. Johns routed Providence, the Cinderella team of the tourney, 76-55.

Bradley holds a regular season 71-66 victory over St. Johns and it is primarily on this basis that the Braves are favored to repeat their 1957 victory in the NIT final.

As Chuck Orsborn, Bradley coach, put it "We know what St. Johns is all about."

Joe Lapchick, St. Johns coach, declared "Bradley looks like a giant." Bobby Joe Mason and Joe Billy McDade helped the Braves win the 1957 net title and this is another factor in making Bradley the choice.

NYU fought from behind all the way after Bradley got off to a quick 9-0 lead. Mike Owens was high for Bradley with 16 points, but it was McDade's good defense job on NYU's Tom Sanders that drew praise from Orsborn.

"That hook shot of his that broke the tie was a thing of beauty." Altogether McDade finished with 10 points, nine rebounds and two assists. Russ Cunningham wound up with 18 points, 15 in the last half.

Takes Lead Twice
Providence made a gallant stand in the first half, rallying to take the lead twice at 16-15 and 18-17 and to tie twice at 20-20 and 22-22, but then the witching hour struck. A free throw and basket by Dick Engert broke the tie. Providence never threatened again.

Big Lou Roethel, with 22 points, sparked St. Johns. Lennie Wilkens starred for Providence with 17 points.

The Bradley-St. Johns game will be nationally televised (NBC). NYU and Providence will play for third place.

Bonus Rookie Impressive in Tribe's Defeat
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Gene Leek, the 21-year-old University of Arizona infielder who was signed by the Cleveland Indians for a $35,000 bonus Monday, is making a hit with the Tribe brass.

Manager Joe Gordon and General Manager Frank Lane have been so impressed with his work at third base that they are going to keep him with the Indians indefinitely.

Leek handled five fielding chances without a flaw in the Indians' 9-6 loss to the San Francisco Giants here Thursday. He also hit a double down the third base line in four times at bat.

The Giants, who bombarded Herb Score in the first exhibition game of the season at Tucson March 7, did it again Thursday. They got seven runs in the first three innings. Score also gave up eight of the Giants' 13 hits in the four innings he pitched.

Al Cicotte hurled the last four innings for the Indians and held the San Franciscans to five hits.

Trinity Takes 66-35 Victory In 'Y' Tourney

YMCA Basketball Tournament play continued Thursday night on the local "Y" floor, with Trinity Lutheran pounding Bennett Brown 66-35, and Wigwam Restaurant clouting Whirlpool 77-56.

Trinity rolled in 24 goals and 18 free throws in downing Bennett Brown. The latter was held to 14 from the field and 7 at the foul line.

Trinity was off to an 11-9 quarter lead, held a 25-15 margin at halftime, and was cruising merrily along on the far end of a 40-28 tally going into the finale.

High scorer for Trinity was Sherrell Leffler, whose 11 goals and 6 charity shots were good for 28 points. Sheets was the big man for the Brown quintet, rimming Lutheran buckets for 7 goals and a trio of free throws.

Wigwam got off to a slow start against the Whirlpool five but held a 14-11 edge at the quarter. By halftime, the margin was 31-21, and Wigwam was safely in the driver's seat with a 52-40 advantage at the three-quarter mark.

Wigwam, with Cox banging in 25 points on 9 from the field and 7 from the free throw circle, hammered the Whirlpool defense for 34 goals and 9 free throws. Dick LeBeau, of Ohio State University grid fame, aided the Wigwam cause with 10 tallies.

Martin accounted for 24 of Whirlpool's 56 points on 10 goals and 4 gift completions. All told, Whirlpool accomplished 24 2-pointers, 8 free throws.

Craft Expects Good Year for Indians' Score

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)

—Herb Score should be glad to know at least one American League manager expects him to pitch the Cleveland Indians into the first division—and perhaps to the top.

"I have a feeling Score is going to have a big year and if he does there is no telling how high the Indians could finish," says Harry Craft, the manager of Kansas City's Athletics.

"They are going to score a lot of runs," said Craft as he gloomily watched the rain that has idled the A's, and practically everyone else in Florida's training camps, for three days. "If Score doesn't come through they're in trouble. He's the key man."

Craft noted a magazine writer's prediction that New York would win the pennant again followed by Detroit, Chicago, Boston, Cleveland, Kansas City, Baltimore and Washington in that order.

"I'll go along on the first three teams but I'd have to put Boston in the second division and move up Cleveland. Boston should score some runs, too, but I don't like their pitching," Craft said.

'Y' Wrestlers In Defense of Title Saturday

The Marion YMCA wrestling team will place its Ohio-West Virginia area wrestling championship on the block Saturday afternoon at the annual two-state meet in Columbus. The locals will attempt to retain the title for the third straight year in an effort to become the first team in the history of the tourney to retire the rotating team trophy.

Top competition is expected from Wheeling, W. Va., which mustered 22 points with only five boys in last year's action. This year the West Virginians are expected to place at least one full squad on the mat. Other top contenders to the crown will be Columbus YMCA which is expected to gain additional support from several of the High Schools in the area, and Cincinnati who always places several championship positions.

Marion will send its full team of 18 wrestlers to the mat in an effort to retain the crown. Boys seeding action in Saturdays fray, with their won-lost record will be: at 103 pounds, Buster VandeWater, (0-7), at 122 pounds Invitational Champion Dale Kibbey (6-2) and Bob Kuhn (1-2). At 120 pounds will be Bill Haynes (3-3). Seeing activity at 127 pounds will be Marly Kaufman (4-2) and Joe Lenavitt (5-4) and at 133 Invitational Champion Bill Thatcher (11-1) and Chris Kimball (1-1). At 138 Invitational winner Harry Spring (11-1) will team with Fred Kibbey (2-2) and Bob Davenport (2-2). At 145 the one-two punch of Bud Kelley (10-0), invitational champion, and Doug Beaver (2-4) will do the work, along with Mike Moore (0-1). At 154 John Keller (3-5-1) will wrestle and Jerry Gibson (7-3) will work at 165. Clyde Thomas (9-1-2) will wrestle at 175 and Pete Wolfinger, (2-3-1) invitational champion, will carry the load at Heavy weight.

Boys defending their state championships from last year will be Dale Kibbey who won his title at 103, Joel Lenavitt, who gained the crown at 120, Captain Bill Thatcher who dominated 127, and Clyde Thomas who will remain in his same weight group at 175.

Local Youths Seek Weightlifting Title

The Marion YMCA's representatives to the Ohio-West Virginia area weightlifting tournament will see action Saturday in the annual pitting of some of the best lifters in the two-state area.

Bill Thomas, Ohio junior lifting champion at 132 pounds, will be going for additional honors Saturday in the same weight group. Mel Perry will also see action in the 131 pound group where he gained a fifth place ranking in the Ohio junior championships earlier this year.

Top competition will come from the Youngstown area which supports the defending championship team. Other top contenders will be from Hamilton, Cincinnati and Lima.

The two local lifters will be the first representatives of the Marion Association to see tournament action for over a decade, and are top contenders in their respective weight groups.

Crawford County Group Plans Annual Field Trials for Dogs

GALION — Some of the better running dogs of the state will run at the annual Spring Field Trial, sponsored by the Crawford County Coon Hunters and Sportsmen, Sunday. The dogs will be running for a share of the guaranteed final, at the Crawford County Fairgrounds, it was announced by Roma W. Stall, president of the Association. The trial will be run rain or shine.

The sole purpose of staging this field trial is to raise funds for carrying on activities of restocking and feeding of wildlife throughout the local area. The club has two fenced areas of one and one quarter acres each where last year they raised and released 700 pheasants for the hunters of Crawford and Morrow Counties. Stall reported. He said that more than 23 dozen Kansas cottontail rabbits were purchased.

Divers Bob Finney, district champ, and Dick White should finish high as could the medley relay team of Cooper, McKee, Kohler and Thompson. Breaststroker Scott Pickrel and the relay team of Pickrel, Tom Ruzzo, Finney and Ken Tillman round out the Marion entries.

Next week the local also will engage in the annual Marion long distance championships for beautiful marble trophies given by the Aquatic Club.

Byrd topped the MCI scoring with 24 points while Kellom netted 15 and Jefferson scored 11. Coon-fare with 11 and Williams with

Crawford Area School Merger Plans Advance

North Robinson and Sulphur Springs Are Included in Proposal

BUYRUS — Backers of a plan to merge the Sulphur Springs School District with the North Robinson District said today that the merger is favored overwhelmingly by residents of the district.

A petition requesting the transfer has been signed by 466 residents while only 237 signatures were required to put the issue on the ballot next fall.

The petition will be presented to Crawford County School Supt. L. C. Treherne and turned over to the board of elections for certification.

After the petition is certified, it will be returned to the county school board and copies sent to the state board of education and local boards at North Robinson and Sulphur.

Next step, according to the petitioners, will be to certify the petition by all boards and then place it on the ballot for action by Sulphur Springs District residents.

Leesville already has merged its high school with North Robinson and Whetstone High School, which lost its temporary charter recently, also is expected to merge with North Robinson next fall.

Consolidation of the four districts was recommended in a recent county-wide survey conducted by Ohio State University.

A new high school for the upper grades would be built near the present North Robinson High School building. Elementary grades would continue to be housed in the present buildings.

Estimated cost of a new high school building and remodeling of the present building at North Robinson is about $1,000,000.

To Your Good Health

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Whole and Skimmed Milk Help Stomach Ulcers

"Dear Dr. Molner: Will you kindly state your opinion as to the relative merits of whole milk and skimmed milk in the treatment of stomach ulcers?"

Ulcers? If one drinks milk and coffee at the same meal, does the coffee reduce the beneficial effects of the milk? — N.F."

Both whole milk and skimmed milk are acceptable in treatment of stomach and duodenal ulcers — and by "acceptable," I mean they are useful and helpful.

The function of the milk is to provide protein which combines with the stomach acid, and hence leaves less free acid to irritate the ulcer. Likewise milk is low in residue, meaning less irritation from the non-digestible portions left over.

Whole milk provides more fat than skimmed milk. It so happens that fat also tends to reduce the acid secretion.

Therefore, the full answer to your question is that, if weight becomes a problem, the lower caloric value of skimmed milk is desirable. Otherwise whole milk has a small edge. But when weight is a problem, the advantages of controlling it will make up for the difference otherwise.

For the second question: Coffee, because of the caffeine it contains, tends to stimulate the production of acid in the digestive tract. Therefore taking milk with the coffee will tend to neutralize this effect.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can an ulcer of the uterus be healed by douching? Also in your opinion does an ulcer become cancer?" — A.C.C."

The first is a yes-and-no question, but unless the ulcer is a local infection, my answer would be no. As to ulcers becoming cancer, my opinion is: usually no. There can be exceptions.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My son is suffering from psoriasis, especially of the scalp, ears and face. He was treated in the Navy, with sulphur ointment, but to no avail. Is there a vitamin deficiency? And what would cause a metal religious disc, hanging on a length of chain around his neck, to turn black? — J.L.H."

Vitamin deficiency has nothing to do with this disease. We know some things that don't cause it — but we have yet to find out what DOES. Probably several things, or combinations. Sulphur, ammoniated mercury, resorcin, vioform, ultra-violet and some other remedies have on occasion been successful, but it is a matter of finding a remedy which fits an individual.

This isn't easy. Personally, I endorse the view of authorities who feel that X-ray and some of the powerful anti-leukemia drugs like aminopterin are too dangerous to be warranted for use in this disease, since it is not a perilous one. Rather, stick to the safer treatments, and under watchful supervision, find out which begins to show results.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is toxoplasmosis and what is its cause? — Mrs. T.F.S."

It's a relatively rare disease caused by a parasite. The symptoms are fever, aches and swollen glands. I am not familiar with any specific remedy but the disease tends to "run its course" or "burn out," so to speak. However some very serious cases have been known. Diagnosis is made by certain blood tests (agglutination tests) and by biopsy of gland tissue — taking a tiny sample of tissue and examining it under the microscope.

"Dear Dr. Molner: If a lump is found in the breast, how is it tested for cancer? — J.F."

If it has any suspicious characteristics, the test is to remove the lump, or a portion of it, for microscopic examination. This is called a biopsy.

Are you a victim of "vitamin starvation?" To make sure that your diet always contains proper food, write to me in care of this newspaper for my pamphlet, "Vitamins—Alphabet of Health," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible. (Copyright Field Enterprises)

Met Planning Eight Operas For Cleveland

CLEVELAND — An "all-request season" has been scheduled for the Metropolitan Opera's 34th visit to Cleveland during the week beginning April 20. The repertoire is a star-spangled list of opera's most popular masterpieces. Two special trains will be required to convey 350 singers, conductors, chorus and ballet members, and technicians, along with tons of scenery and costumes.

The opening night will offer "Tosca" in honor of the 100th anniversary of the birth of the composer, Giacomo Puccini. Two other Puccini favorites also find place in Cleveland's concentrated season—"La Boheme" on Friday, April 24, and "Madame Butterfly" Sunday afternoon, April 26.

The eight performances—nine, if you count as two the operatic twins, "Cav" and "Pag"—will be as follows: April 20, "Tosca"; April 21, "Carmen"; April 22, "Rigoletto"; April 23, "Don Giovanni"; April 24, "La Boheme"; April 25 (matinee) "Fledermaus"; April 25 (evening) "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci"; April 26, (matinee) "Madame Butterfly."

Among the world-famous singers to be heard in these operas are Eleanor Steber, Roberta Peters, Rise Stevens, Mary Curtis-Verna, Blanche Thebom, Zinka Milanov, Licia Albanese, Mildred Miller, Richard Tucker, Leonard Warren, Carlo Bergonzi, Robert Merrill, Jerome Hines, Barry Morrell, Cesare Valletti and Frank Guarrera.

Duke of Windsor, Duchess Rescued By Nevada Deputy

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, driving from Boulder City to Las Vegas, lost their way and were rescued by a sheriff's deputy.

The duke flagged down a sheriff's car and this conversation ensued: "I say, officer, could you direct me to the right road to Las Vegas?"

"Sure. Say, you're the Duke of Windsor, aren't you?" "Well, yes, I am. You see the duchess and I were en route to the Desert Inn and we're not certain of the road."

"That's all right, sir; just follow me." They followed the officer's car 20 miles to the hotel entrance and were greeted by applause from a gathering of 150 in the lobby.

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Katharine Leech, 16, was killed Thursday when shot accidentally by her father at their home near here. Sheriff's deputies said William Leech was shooting rats with a 12-gauge shotgun when his daughter, standing nearby, was hit in the face.

Victim's Wife Disappears in Murder Trial

Son Reports Mother Missing Two Days in Testimony at Ironton

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Disappearance of a key defense witness may hold a murder trial that began here Tuesday.

Winnie H. Blanton of Phoenix, Ariz., and South Shore, Ky., is on trial before three judges, charged with second-degree murder in the Dec. 8, 1958, shooting of William Kenneth Hall of North Kenova, Ohio.

Mrs. Ada Hall, wife of the victim, is missing.

Her son, a trial witness, told the court Thursday that he has not seen his mother since Wednesday morning.

Will Insist on Testimony

Defense attorney James Riley said he will insist that Mrs. Hall's testimony be part of the trial. Mrs. Hall had been summoned as a witness and was at the courthouse when the trial opened Tuesday.

The court may, if it wishes, grant a continuance until the missing witness is located. A warrant for Mrs. Hall's arrest was issued Thursday afternoon by Judge Warren Earhart. A tri-state alert was sent out by Sheriff Carl Rose.

Warrant Issued

A warrant was issued earlier this year to force Mrs. Hall to testify before the grand jury which indicted Blanton.

The defense claims Blanton and Mrs. Hall were partners in real estate development. The prosecu-
